TRIPLE MURDER!

BURGLARY and ARSON.

Trial of Gotleib Bohner and Albert Von Bodenburg

FOR THE MURDER OF

John Peightal, Sarah Peightal, and Scott Garner,

IN PENN TWP., HUNTINGDON CO., NOV. 17TH, 1869.

Verdict: "Murder in the First Degree."

Gotleib Bohner and Albert Van Bordenbourg, were arraigned for trial on Friday morning the 14th inst. They plead not guilty. The following are the names of the jurymen empannelled: Nathan Greenland, John Miller, Silas Gibbony, David Henderson, James Horning, M. L. Shaffner, Jacob H. Isett, J. D. Appleby, David Jones, Edward Couch, Ralph Crotzley, Wm. Lincoln. The prisoners were brought into Court at quarter of eleven on Monday morning last. Mr. Speer, asked for other assistance to Mr. S. T. Brown, as he was unable on account of hoarseness to act as counsel for defendants K. Allen Lovell, Esq, was thereupon appointed. The Attorneys for prosecution were Dist Attorney M. S. Lytle, and P. M. Lytle and R. Bruce Petriken.

The case was opened by P. M. Lytle, attorney for Commonwealth, who stated the history of the murder, when the hearing of testimony proceeded.

Andrew F. Grove, a surveyor, was called and sworn, who had made the drafts, one of the farm and house, and the other of the interior of the house, showing the position of the dead bodies, when discovered.

Peter Peightal sworn.—I live in Penn township; am second cousin of John Peightal. On the evening of the 17th of November I was at Pleasant Grove Station; I left the station between 8 and 9 o'clock, and went up the railroad in company with Benj. Hoover; we parted about 60 rods from the house, he going up the railroad, and I went towards the public road; on going through the field, about 30 or 40 rods from Peightal's house, I smelt something like smoke; I saw a blaze inside of the window, ran to the house, burst-ed the door open, discovered three fires in the house, and ran back after Mr. Hoover; met him about 40 rods from the house; we came back together; Hoover got two buckets; and we got water from the creek, and put it on the dead bodies; I smashed in the window and entered the fire on the beds; we got the fire extinguished; Dan'l. Peightal arrived, also Henry Peightal, Wm. Walp, Addison Lee, Napoleon Hoover, and Andrew F. Grove; Grove and I started to Pleasant Grove, and that's all I saw that night. I went back the next morning with Grove and Hoover; there was snow on the ground which fell on the 16th; we looked for tracks and found them; we tracked them in the meadow between the house and railroad; I took the boots and shoes from the jail, given me by Bouse, and they fit the tracks precisely.

Cross-examined.—Called Hoover before I overtook him; I called before I went into the house, but got no answer; saw the bodies were burned; gave Isaac Peightal boots who returned them to jail.

Benjamin Hoover.—Peter Peightal and I started home from Pleasant Grove Station together, until we got within 80 or 90 rods of Peightal's crossing; Peter left me, and I went up the railroad; heard sombody calling me, understood him to say "Fire;" left railroad and went towards John Peightal's house; met Peter in the orchard; he said, "What in the world does this mean; John Peightal's house is afire;" I asked him if he saw anything of the old folks; he said he didn't know where they were; he had been at back window where they usually slept, and hallooed to them but got no answer; had bursted front door open and hallooed, but got no answer there; we came on then, and the first I dis covered fire was when I got on the fence, 15 rods from the house; I got two buckets, and we carried water into the kitchen part until we saw no danger of them burning up; discovered fire in back room where bed was, but the door was shut; Peter got a rail and we knocked it in; had part of fire out when Henry Peightal came to assist us; we got fire out; Dan'l Peightal was the next one who came; I told him to fetch a lantern with a light, which he did; when he came back we had fire out; Addison Lee, Napoleon Hoover and Andrew Grove came there about the same time; Grove brought a sheaf of oats which was lit; we went into the house at the kitchen and by the light of the lantern and sheaf of oats, we saw old Mrs. Peightal lying about 3 feet from the door inside; that's the only body I saw there; the table was there and it appeared as if the family had been at supper; there was a fire near Mrs. Peightal.

Adjourned till 2 P. M.

Daniel F. Peightal.—Live about one-half mile from scene of murder; heard of murder at 9 o'clock; went to Peightal's house about 10; went into kitchen, and saw a table which was spread; saw dead bodies on floor; John Peightal laid with feet under table, and his head near chimney; Scott Garner laid from the other end of table near the window; Mrs Peightal laid in front of door, about ten feet from the table; all were dead; James Strong and Wm. States and two others carried bodies to another room and laid them out.

Andrew F. Grove—Heard of murder about 9 o'clock; I went to house, and there found Peter Peightal, Benjamin Hoover, Henry Peightal, Lee and Napoleon Hoover arrived about the same time I did; I asked about the condition of things in the house; think they told me the bodies were lying dead in the kitchen; I then said, "Gentlemen, this is a murder and I know who did it;" Lee and I went to barn and each got a sheaf of oats, which we lit in the cellar of the house, and then entered the kitchen; the first body I saw was Mrs. Peightal's lying about 3 feet in front of door, with the clothing burnt from her lower extremities and something resembling a pillow-case wrapped around her head; I took it off her and saw a cut in her head; I could see the form of the old gentleman very distinct, the body's not quite so distinct; the table was set; the plate where the old gentleman sat had a potato on about half pared; the boy I think had a potato pared and mashed and had his coffee poured out in the saucer; Mrs Peightal had a cup full of coffee, not having commenced eating; I saw two men on morning of the 17th about 7 o'clock; they stopped in our store at Pleasant Grove; I saw them leaving the store and going towards McConnellstown; saw the same parties between 11 and 12 o'clock passing my place towards Peightal's house; saw them next in prison; these are certainly the men I saw.

Cross examined—Couldn't tell where they were when I saw them first; I was about 100 feet from them when they entered the store; I was not in the store; when they left the store about 7 o'clock I was about 30 feet from them; it was daylight; when they came back the same day they were walking on the railroad, and I was at the end of the store; they didn't stop; a good many people do travel up and down the road; I described the men to Mr. Ward as he wished to telegraph.

Samuel Liminsberger—Was at John Peightal's house, and saw the three bodies; the wound in John Peightal's body was in front of ear on the left side, and was made by a bullet, which did not come out; Scott Garner was shot on left side of head and bullet came out on the right side; Mrs. Peightal was shot on the right side of the neck; the bullet did not come out; she was also wounded above her right ear; it was knocked in and the skull broken; they were all dead; all the bodies were covered with bed-clothing which had been set on fire; Mr. Peightal was burned on right leg up to his head; think right arm was burned; Mrs. Peightal was burned on left side and all over her lower body up to her waist and her arms Scott Garner had one leg burned, his left side partially; I found the tracks; they left the railroad, went through the meadow to the corner of the barn; they were the tracks of two men side of each other; they walked round the barn, and went to the house along the lane, one behind the other, up to within 4 rods of the house, where tracks were trampled.

Cross-examined.—Tracks were not tramped at the barn; lane was not tramped so much that we couldn't see them; looked for them about daylight on the morning of the 18th; barn is about 100 yards from the house; tracks were frozen and were clear and distinct.

William States.—Heard of murder and got to house about 12 o'clock same night; saw all the bodies; formed a jury and examined them about eleven o'clock; probed the wound in Mrs. Peightal's head with a knitting needle, which went in about four or five inches; a powder wound was right around where Mr. and Mrs. Peightal were shot; the bullet went into window behind where Scott Garner had been sitting. William Strong and I washed the bodies.

Dr. H E. Conrad.—Was at house next morning; made a short examination of wounds; in my opinion death of John Peightal was caused by that wound.

Cross-examined.—A wound of that kind would cause almost instant death; wound in Mrs. Peightal's neck was not necessarily a fatal wound; wound on head looked as if it had been made with the butt of a pistol; the boy's wound was fatal.

Dr. R R Weistling.—Have heard testimony of Limingberger, Dr. Conrad and States, and think the wounds described by them were sufficient, to cause death upon all of them.

John P. Watson.—Arrived at the house about 11 o'clock; went into the room adjoining kitchen to get an axe, but no axe there; the bed covering and bedding had been taken off; the bureau was broken open, the small drawer was pulled entirely out, and the lock on the lower drawer broken off; found hatchet in front of bureau with handle broken off, and the axe also; the chest had been broken open; we found a small pocket-book in it, in which was six dollars; two gold dollars in chest, and ten dimes in silver.

Moses Hamer.—Was at house the morning after the murder; was in room where the bureau was; I found the axe standing behind the bureau; found a gold dollar on the floor in front of bureau, which was broken open.

E. E. Locke.—Live in Hollidaysburg; am in the hardware business; saw the prisoners at my store the 21st of October, who wanted to purchase pistols; my clerk, Wm. Mitchell, showed them different kinds of pistols, and while they were looking at them I left to go to supper; I missed two single-barreled pistols when I came back; they were breech loaders, of Allen's manufacture; I keep cartridges same as those used for Allen's pistols, made by Hall & Hunter.

Cross-examined—I keep accounts of my cash sales each day; pistols cost $4.00 each.

Washington Norris.—Was at house next morning and found a cartridge on kitchen floor; lying about 3 or 4 feet from Mr. Peightal; (cartridge corresponds with some afterwards taken from prisoners.)

G. W. Kessler.—I reside in Altoona; am a druggist; am acquainted with Gotleib Bohner, he called himself Charley Moore; he bought medicine from me, and a few days before he was arrested he said he was going to New York to get $800.

Cross-examined—He got medicine from me more than once; he was credited, but I never got any money; I depended on his statements about getting money; don't recollect ever seeing Bordenbourg.

Amelia Foust—Live in Altoona; have seen prisoners pretty often; have known Charley about four months; saw him pretty near every other evening; he told me he was to get money from Germany, don't know how much; he told me the first Monday after pay day, the 10th; we were to be married in a week from the next day, going to housekeeping, and property was to be paid for by the money from Germany.

Mrs Filer.—Live in Altoona; prisoners boarded at my house; they left on the 13th of October and came back on the 20th of October; they went away again on Monday before Thanksgiving between 6 and 7 o'clock; Charley told me I needn't leave the door open as they wouldn't be back that night.

David Stinson—Saw the prisoners about three-quarters of a mile from Peightal's house on the 16th of November about 11 or 12 o'clock; I was working on the road, with Abraham Coller, James Farley, Adam Snyder and two others; some one of the men talked to them; these are the very men.

Cross-examined—This happened on the day before Thanksgiving; nobody with them; heard of murder the next morning.

Abraham Coller—Corroborates Stinson's testimony; am positive these are the men.

Cross examined—I saw Charley along the railroad three or four times about two weeks before the murder was committed; had no acquaintance with him; Albert made an attempt to get on a coal train, but failed.

James Farley—Corroborates Coller's statement; I asked one of them where they were going; he said, to Dudley; am positive these are the men.

Washington Lang—Reside in McConnellstown; keep a public house; saw these two men at my house on the forenoon of the 17th of November, and 2 or three weeks before that; the first time they were inquiring for work of Mr. Smith; the second time they came early in the morning, got some cider, and before they left got a pint bottle filled with brandy, and took it with them; they left about 10 o'clock.

Cross-examined—Mr. Smith employs men to work, and the first time he promised to give them a job; they talked as if they had been working at Broad Top.

John Sweeny—Live near McConnellstown, within 30 feet of the railroad; saw these men at station on the morning of the 17th between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock; Albert asked me what time the coal train went to Dudley; am positive these are the men.

Mrs. Margaret Sweeny—I am the wife of John Sweeny; these men stopped in our house, and staid about an hour; my son talked to them; am sure these are the men.

James Ward—Heard of murder on the night of 17th; went to the house and was there two hours or over; started to Huntingdon between one and two; got here between 3 and 4; went to telegraph office, and was told that the 11 o'clock train east was at Lancaster; went to Car Inspector's office, and while there the telegraph operator said that a man had told him he had seen the two men I was after get on the Cincinnati train west; I went to telegraph office and despatched to Altoona to have them arrested; I remained there until train arrived at Altoona, when I got a dispatch that two men had been arrested; I got the description of men from Mr. Grove and gave it to the operator as near as I could.

John Swivell—Reside in Huntingdon; am a car inspector; was at station on the morning of the 18th; Mr Ward met me; I inspected the 3,32 train, and saw two men get on the front platform and rush through the car in a great hurry; I told Mr. Ward I saw two men get on that train, and advised him to telegraph to Altoona.

Cross examined—They got in at the south side; I was within 30 feet of them; I didn't know either of them and couldn't identify them.

Jesse Decker—Live in Huntingdon; on that night was at Jacob's saloon about 12 o'clock; saw these men there; they came in about 10 o'clock; Charley told me he had been at Mapleton, and were going to Tyrone; they were in the oyster room when I left between 12 and 1 o'clock; they had a bundle with them.

Cross-examined—Got acquainted with Charley at Letterman's, last spring; he was then working on the canal.

A. A. Jacobs—I keep the saloon spoken of by Mr. Decker; think these were the men who came into saloon about 10 o'clock; they drank ale, and smoked cigars and ate oysters; I laid down between 12 and 1 and didn't see them after that.

Cross-examined — Charley told me they came from Philadelphia and were going to Louisville; they paid me with a five-dollar greenback.

James Buchanan— Was brakeman on the passenger train that night; I collected the fare from them; they told me they didn't have tickets; one gave me two dollars, and other, one and-half; I think these are the men; there were only two got on here.

Mathew McAteer—Am a railroad conductor, and passed this place on the morning of the 18th November, at 3,33; two men got on here and went to Altoona: when they got off they were arrested; I pointed them out to Mr. Cramer, depot master, he pointed them out to Mr. Clarke; I made change for two fares from Huntingdon to Altoona,

John M. Clarke—Reside in Altoona; am railroad police officer; on the morning of the 18th I arrested these two men; Mr. Cramer came to my house between 3 and 4 o'clock, and told me he had a dispatch to arrest two men who had committed a murder near Huntingdon; I was near by when the train arrived; McAteer said there are the two men who got on at Huntingdon; Bohner was walking away as fast as he could, and I told him to stop; Mr. Cramer took charge of Bodenburg, and I took charge of Charley; we took them to the lamp-house, and from there we took them to the lock-up; Bordenburg asked me what this meant; I told him we had a dispatch from Huntingdon to arrest him; he ha hacd; I put them in separate cells, but before I put them in I took their bundles from them, which each one had; made a fire on and went to telegraph office to telegraph to Huntingdon, but found Cramer had already telegraphed; we received a dispatch that a man would be up on the next train to identify them; I went back to lock-up, and Charley said he had been in Tyrone the day before; about 8 o'clock a boy told me one of them had got under the lock-up; went there and saw the mayor and many others; we tore up the floor, sent a boy down, but he could see nothing; Mr. Peck went down with a lamp and he could see nothing; he had gone back to his cell; we then searched them and found a knife, a pocket-book containing $110 in currency, and some other things on Bodenburg; he had a box with cartridges in it; we found a paper of cartridges in Charley's possession.

TUESDAY MORNING.

Wm Cramer.—Reside in Altoona; witness corroborates Clark's testimony about arresting prisoners and telegraphing to Huntingdon; Bodenburg, when arrested, had a black moustache and a good black overcoat; the other man was pretty roughly dressed.

Hon Geo Potts.—Am mayor of Altoona; arrived at lock-up about 8 o'clk; Clark told me he had put in two prisoners for the murder of a whole family; found Mr. Witmor at the door of the lock up and I went in; one prisoner had got under the floor; Charley was sitting in his cell; saw the bundles and put them away; after Bordenburg had got back to his cell, we examined both prisoners, and took everything from them; witness was shown the razor, pants, shawls and other articles which he identified as having been taken from them; we went to the cars, and the bundle containing the black pantaloons Charley said was his, and the one containing shawl Bordenburg said was his; all the money we found in the bundles we put in bank.

Cross-examined—Told Mr. William son to have the train detained until we would know who the bundles belonged to; Charley acknowledged the bundle to be his that contained the money, and the other Bordenburg said was his.

Arthur Storm—Am a policeman in Altoona; heard of arrest on the 18th of November; I saw them first in the lock-up; Charley was in the cell, and the other man was under it; I helped Mr. Williamson to open the bundles; (he identified the articles;) I marked "A. S," on the pants; I carried the bundle containing pants to the cars, and Charley reached for it; there were in the pants a bag containing $59,50, $22 in halves and quarters, a 5 franc piece and 48 cents in coin; it was tied up in bunches; didn't find any money in bundle No 2; in bundle No. 1, was a cape, light colored shawl, and other articles; in No. 2 was a plaid shawl, tied in a red handkerchief; Mr. Peightal got the money which was counted in the mayor's office; total amount in coin $260 48, delivered to him.

Cross-examined—Don't know how much paper money; heard it was $100; Clark and Witmor brought prisoners to Huntingdon; all was American coin, except a Mexican dollar.

Isaac Peck—Live in Altoona; saw prisoners between 8 and 9 at lock-up, they were hunting one; I got a digging iron, broke up the floor, got down, but didn't see him; saw him after he came out; he had been in "ugly mud" that smelt pretty bad; I found $40.50 in gold, in lock-up, between the ceiling under the floor, shoved down a crack; also found $35,50 in halves, $20 in quarters, 1 Mexican dollar, $40 in gold and 75 cents; gave it to Mr. Storm, who took it to bank; it was included in total amount; found a broken razor below in the vaults, where a hole was made; it had dirt on it.

Cross-examined—I found no money on prisoners; found mine in lock up afterwards; didn't see the man digging under the floor.

Jacob H. Witmor—Live in Altoona; am a policeman; on the morning of 18th I went to Mayor's office; he told me he had two fellows in the lock up; and not to let them out; Charley had cut six different places in his cell; I asked him for his implements, and took from him a pocket-knife; went to the other cell and saw no one there, there was a hole in bunk; looked down privy hole but saw nothing there; I thought weapons were under there, and went down and found a razor with the name of "Peightal" on it; I collected the fare from them; they told me they didn't have tickets; one gave me two dollars, and other, one and-half; I think these are the men; there were only two got on here.

Cross-examined—I saw name on it the same day I found it; that's all I found under the floor, Clark and I came here with them; had to take them to jail on double-quick; they were handcuffed, and I had Bohner.

Levi Chaplin—Reside in Hunting-don; am a barber; was acquainted with John Peightal; sharpened razors for him; (shown razor and case, and stated that he had seen them before;) I put his name on the razor; it belonged to John Peightal.

Cross-examined—I believe John was the last of the family I marked razor for; that is my writing on it.

Isaac Peightal—Live in Penn twp.; am a brother to John Peightal; this was his razor when he lived with me; I read that name, and know it was put on somewhere; he took razor with him when he left my house.

Cross-examined—Don't think I saw the razor after he left my house; it belonged to John; it was the only razor about the house that was marked, that I recollect.

Kennedy M. King—I went to jail on the morning of the 18th; I asked the officers whether they had been searched; he said they had, but they had no fire-arms; we searched them again; the large man (Bohner) pulled off his boot, and I saw him take a paper in his hand which contained money; I took it from him; it was $122,60 in greenbacks, and currency; I handed money to Sheriff, who took possession of it; they had searched the small man, but I noticed he couldn't speak plain; he said he had tobacco in his mouth; when I reached up to take him by the neck, he spit $27,50 in gold in my hand; one $20 gold piece, a $5, and $2½.

Cross-examined—I went to jail with crowd which was excited; threats were made by the crowd; prisoners made statements to P. M. Lytle and R. McDivitt about fifteen minutes after they were searched; I saw what I supposed was blood on a vest, which appeared as if it had been washed, and on a pair of pants.

Richard Langdon—I was at the jail on the morning of the 18th; I told the little one to examine himself; found nothing on him; examined the other and found $122,60 in his stocking; I then went to little one; told him to speak plain; he said he had tobacco in his mouth; I tapped his cheek and as he was in the act of swallowing I caught him back of the neck and he delivered out of his mouth $27,50 in gold.

Cross examined—Don't think I saw any blood on their clothing.

Samuel Peightal—Live about 3 miles from John, who was my brother; he had been living there about 14 or 15 years; he went there shortly after marrying Miss Sarah McCall; I was in Altoona a short time after arrest, and got all the clothing; they were put up in two bundles; black shawl, cape and pants in one, with white handkerchief around it; a plaid shawl in the other and red hankerchief around it; have had the two bundles in my possession ever since; the initials of "S. Mc" her maiden name, worked on the handkerchief with red thread, I would suppose were hers; Mr. Peightal was 65 years old.

Cross examined—The initials on the handkerchief I never saw before.

Mrs. Ellen Garner—Live about two and a half from Mr. Peightal; Scott was my son, and had been there three summers; his father died 5 years ago, in Salisbury Prison; I sewed for John Peightal, and made these pants for Scott, and took them to him on Monday evening before the murder; Scott was 10 years, 1 month and 10 days old.

Cross-examined—There were no persons in the house on the night of the murder but the two persons and Scott Garner; Mr. Peightal butchered on the Tuesday before murder.

Re direct—Mr. Peightal was out at the barn on Tuesday morning and found two men on the loft.

Miss Margaret McCall: Mrs. Peightal was my aunt; I visited her and lived there last winter; I saw her having a shawl just like this; I believe all these articles to have been hers.

James McCall: I reside in Henderson township; Mrs. Peightal was my sister; this is a shawl that was bought by my father for her forty years ago; the cape is one she wore in her young days; she was in the habit of putting "S. Mc" on her handkerchiefs and this corresponds with her other handkerchiefs.

Sheriff Neely: I met the officers at the cars, and we took the prisoners to jail; there were some threats made by the crowd; in jail we searched them; Mr. Langdon and Kennedy King made Albert spit out $22,50; examined their clothes; wouldn't say there was blood on them; the measure of tracks bro't in exactly measured boots and shoes; witness then gave up the $122,60, found in Charley's stocking, and $6 in gold which had been found in his vest; I got on Saturday night last two case knives sharpened to a point, and scabbards, in their possession, and farewell letter; got one knife inside of Charley's pants, and the other in the bed behind where Albert had been sitting.

Cross Examined — I deposited the money in bank, and got it this morning; Mr. Fouse and Weaver were with me when I got the knives; I furnish mallable iron knives to prisoners, these are cast steel; there is no convenient sharpening place in jail, and they were not sharpened there; never saw such knives about them before, and none were furnished them by me. Mr. Long, the guard, got them thread to mend their clothes, as they said; the leather for the scabbards came off their boots; they said they got them in a cavity under the window, where some former prisoners put things, but I cleaned it all out in the spring when I moved in.

Robt. McDivitt—I went out to the house with others the morning after the murder was committed; I found tracks of two men in the meadow, going up towards the barn, and then going towards the railroad; Addison Lee, Moses Hamer, and James Boring helped to measure them; the latter measured with a rule and I took them down; we measured tracks coming down from the house; the left foot measured thus: length of heel, 3 inches, width of heel, 3 inches, length of foot, 11¼ inches, width of shank 2¼ inches, heel 3 inches square, shank 2 inches, broadest part 3¼ inches; snow fell the day before and tracks were easily recognized; I came to jail the day they were arrested; but the boots and shoes were off before I went in; I thought the shoes corresponded with the tracks; the house is situated in Penn township, Huntingdon county.

Prof. Louis J. Veith.—This witness stated that the two letters taken from the prisoners on Saturday and given him were a correct translation from the German. The following are copies of the letters, which were read:

HUNTINGDON, Dec. 25th 1869.—An open letter to the farmers [rough people in German] and blood hounds of Huntingdon.

In strength of my office and in the name of the devil I take the pen in order to announce not my death but yours on this Christmas-Rascals that your are, you wanted to kill us as we didn't do the crime. We were four of us—the two who done the crime made their escape. By that reason I came to the conclusion to save my life, for the merciless fate did threaten me with death. We resolved it was better for one man to die than two. We were to be gone long ago, but we had not yet weapons. But for that purpose we received them, for the proverb says, "Patience, reason and time, (that will be three noble things) a man that is able to wait can make everything possible." Who the man was that done the crime you needn't know, you can ask himself. For that purpose I gave up my belief that I knew it—there is no God in heaven. The hog-shepherd sitting in the court knows it. Lytle—or whatever his bad name may be—he wanted to bring me some snuff, the damned blood hound. He will receive not tobacco but a pistol shot to go to hell. Yes, you German, you said that [you were ashamed—you shall not shame yourself-yes much longer, you will receive in the same time a ball of death. Who these are I keep it for myself. You were right in telling in the newspapers. I have laughed heartily over that crime, as I shall kill you like mad dogs. Now we deserve death. If you want to follow us you can do it, then our balls will kill you. If you believe on a God you can pray once before you meet us for our balls will bore your breast. You must not believe you are going to capture us again so quickly like Altoona. We were not prepared for that, but now we can see how it stands—everybody we will cross will be knocked down. O, with what pleasure we will receive them who are coming after us. It makes no difference whether brother or friend, you are all lost in death, for we have money and good weapons already this very day. Yes, we are going in company and woe to you people of Huntingdon. Your town shall be laid in ashes and whoever will resist shall be shot down. I repeat again you should not follow us and if you will do it I shall make a trial with you then. I have got a good eye which never misses the right centre. I need only one finger of my right hand and you a——ta——s and bandits must leave the world and go to hell. That all this will happen I testify it here with my signature.

GOTHAIRT,

From devil, from hell, from death and destruction. Y. M. and B.

HUNTINGDON, Jan, 1st. 1870.

P.s. taking the pen to the new law which after centuries till the close of the world will be remembered of me. You wanted the history of my life so I want to give it to you with the pen this time and the next time with the ball. I get along better with the ball than with the pen. We could have left Altoona but was too light. I wanted to get into prison and then to get out of it; that makes the law book full. The watchmen in Altoona (the rascals) have stolen all the money and we should suffer for it; so is it; the small ones get hanged and the big ones get free. Those bloodhounds of watchmen in Altoona; they shall die the first day. I wish they could enjoy that stolen money. I will enjoy too, to use my new weapons for them. They shouldn't fall by a murderer's hand, but by the hand of a noble one. Yes I do it with my hand. Others are doing it with the mouth and the heart; that I call murder. I want to explain to you everything right, for you are all made of a bad stuff. I do not wonder you are going to the church and sleeping with a wife that keeps you in the dullness till you die like a dog. But we, we are made of gold and jewels. Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah! in the name of the devil and his servants may live. You damned cattle! You believe on God, you want to go to heaven. You can go in your——

The ministers of the gospel came to see us too. I sent them off right away. I told them that I ran all these things off with my shoes. All the ministers of the gospel should be hanged, only it is a pity for the ropes; but one I will not condemn, that is Mr. Steckel. He speaks German and is a man who I like. I'll get shut of him otherwise—I'll get tired or sleepy. I'll change my mind with the world and to-day, on the new year, I'll count how much lead and shot I need in the next twenty years, especially for the dogs who are sitting in the Court and who are made of the same bad stuff—and such dogs want to take our lives. Every human being has that right, but they must not catch themselves. Yes, you would have laughed if you would have seen us hanging on the rope. * * * *

The thick Brown and that dog which has taken my money in the jail—prepare yourselves for death. I'll come like a thief in the night and demand your lives.

Here follows eighteen verses of jargon, profanity and threats alike senseless and unintelligable, and the writing closes as follows:

This night you will all become angry on account of me for I will slay the shepherd and the sheep will scatter.

Behold, here a pen mark brings the death, death, death.

Court adjourned until 2 P. M.

Saml. Liminsberger—I was with P. Peightal when measuring the tracks and comparing the boots and shoes with them; they went through the meadow to the barn together; one followed the other up the lane; could trace them to a wood pile near the house, where the snow was tramped up; the boots and shoes fit the tracks; I saw the same tracks up to a little cave about three-quarters of a mile from the house; saw the prisoners there between 3 and 4 o'clock the same day of the murder; traced tracks from there to house, and from there back to railroad; the same persons made them; they were sitting by the fire at the cave.

Cross-examined—I first saw boots and shoes the next day after they were brought here; went up with Peter Peightal; snow had thawed a little; measured tracks; I saw them at the cave the day the murder was committed; we measured the tracks the same evening after their arrest, by the light of a lantern. Witness examined the boots on Bohner, and stated that they looked like the boots; the boots fit the largest track.

Margaret McCall—I saw money in Mr. Peightal's house about a year ago; my aunt showed it to me; it was in a muslin poke, which she took from a bureau drawer, in a far corner of a room; it stood in the same place the day of the murder.

Cross-examined—Aunt claimed money as hers; nothing said about any other money at that time.

Thomas Westbrook: Live in Portstown; adjoining Huntingdon; on the morning of 18th of November I was at the station about 20 minutes before arrival of the Cincinnati train; Charley asked me how soon the train would be here; I told him in a few minutes; they came together and got on the train; am positive Charley is the man; no other passengers got on.

Cross examined: Never saw him before; they both sat in the office waiting the train. (While this witness was telling that it was cold that night, and he himself had a soldier's overcoat on, Charley, who was below him in the bar, said, "I hadn't an overcoat on," thus convincing the jury beyond a doubt that he was the one who was at the station.)

Mrs. Sarah Gable: Live in Altoona; am acquainted with these men; they called at my house; I washed for Albert; three or four weeks before, they told me they were going to Harrisburg; they said they would bring me a present and pay my rent; I never saw them after they came back; Albert told me they were getting a fortune of $6000 from Germany.

Cross examined: Albert had a letter written in German; some relative in Germany was to give him the money; Albert always behaved himself well at my house.

Francis B. Wallace—Am a storekeeper in Huntingdon; (witness was shown a bill which was found on one of the prisoners.) I sold goods to John Peightal for the use of Joseph Kyle; sold him Kentucky Jean amounting to $3,75, four or five years ago.

Cross-examined: The bill was not in my handwriting; Joseph Kyle died about 3 years ago.

P. M. Lytle, Esq.: Saw the prisoners first on the day they were arrested; saw them when brought; off train and went in jail with the Sheriff in advance of the party; I was acting as a private citizen; the German population were excited; the prisoners made voluntary statements to me; I cautioned them not to tell anything that would criminate themselves.

[Counsel for defendants objected; to admitting confessions of prisoners as evidence, as there appeared to be intimidation; Mr. Lytle stated he was requested to come back by Charley at a subsequent day, when the Court ruled that the confession made then would be admitted as evidence, and Mr. Lytle proceeded.] Bohner stated to me that he and Bodenburg had come from Altoona and arrived here at half-past 4 o'clock; they walked to Peightal's that Monday night, and slept in the barn; inquired for work of Mr. Peightal on Tuesday; that he had come out towards the railroad and had shown them the way; they staid in the neighborhood that day inquiring for work, and slept that night in a barn farther down the road; went to McConnellstown on Wednesday forenoon, staid there sometime, and started back towards Pleasant Grove, and walked slowly so as to avoid getting to Peightal's too soon; at about seven o'clock they started from railroad, walked through the field to a corner of barn-yard; that they had two single-barreled pistols that had been purchased in Hollidaysburg, and that he (Bohner) loaned Bordenburg his pistol, and he staid at the corner of the barn-yard while Bordenburg did the killing; stated that he heard three shots, and that when Bordenburg came out he handed him one poke of money and kept the other; he stated that Bordenburg told him he had killed three, and I think he said that he had fired the house; they then left and came along the railroad to Huntingdon; he has repeated the same statement to me since; Bordenburg's statement corroborates Bohner's, except that he says Bohner did the killing and he watched; they also stated that they had been there two or three weeks before.

Cross-examined.—The statements were made separately; I don't know whether they learned I was a member of the bar; I asked Charley where the balance of the money was; I was employed by Mr. Peightal to recover it; neither of them acknowledged that he had done the killing.

R. M. Speer, Esq.—I saw Charley three years ago to-morrow, Jan. 17th, when I defended him at this court; he was indicted for larceny.

Cross-examined.—I met him in jail, and said, 'Gotlieb, this is a bad place;' he said, I could get him out of it; I said, "No; this is not killing a calf."

Commonwealth here rested at 4 P. M. There being no witnesses on side of defence, and no argument submitted on either side, Judge Taylor proceeded to deliver the charge, which occupied an hour.

THE VERDICT.

The Jury retired at the conclusion of the charge, and returned in about fifteen minutes with the following verdict: "Guilty of murder in the first degree." Bohner heard the verdict with as much unconcern as he has been noted for since his arrest, while Bodenburg appeared depressed in spirit, hung his head down, and tears were noticed to trickle down his cheek, as he was taken to the jail.

SENTENCED.

On Friday morning at 9 o'clock, the prisoners, Bohner and Bordenbourg, were brought into Court to receive their sentence. The prisoners were told to stand up—and asked if they had anything to say why the sentence should not be pronounced. Bordenbourg replied that he was not guilty, that he didn't know anything of the killing of the family or burning of the house until he got to Altoona. The Judge then pronounced the sentence, that they be hanged by the neck until dead, in the jail yard.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } EDITORS.

The "Globe" has the largest number of readers of any other paper published in the county. Advertisers should remember this.

U. S. SENATOR.—Mr. H. R. Revels, a negro, a native of Ohio, and a graduate of Oberlin College, has been elected by the Mississippi Legislature, a United States Senator for the term expiring in 1871.

THE Legislature has been in session since the 4th of the present month, and what has it accomplished?—absolutely nothing. Retrenchment and reform with a vengeance. How long, oh, Lord! how long is this thing to last.

☞ We call attention to a communication from a tax-payer of Porter township. The subject is one that should receive the careful attention of the County Commissioners. They are responsible for the proper collection of the taxes, and it is with them to say what kind of collectors shall be appointed. A good business man will always employ the most reliable help.

THE startling intelligence reaches us that in the last ten years, almost as many persons have been arrested in New York as there were inhabitants of the city at the last census. During the last year alone the total number of arrests was 72,984, of whom 51,440 were males and 21,538 females. Of these 29,249 were married, and 43,735 were single—thus showing that matrimony breeds less crime than celibacy.

"HE wouldn't steal a red-hot stove," is often applied to persons of doubtful honesty, but it is said that some of the blood-suckers who have been pilfering from the State Treasury for a number of years, have become so expert at the business, that if given the opportunity, they would actually carry off a red-hot stove, and being such adepts, they wouldn't burn their fingers either.

JUDGE SHARSWOOD has decided, in relation to the rights of infidels in this State, that the laws and institutions of the State are built on "the foundation of reverence for Christianity"; and, therefore, that any action of individuals which may tend to revile, ridicule, or blaspheme the religion revealed in the Bible is unlawful. This opinion is apropos of a decision made by him in the Supreme Court that a charitable bequest to an infidel society is void.

IT would seem that an Indian war is likely to grow out of the Red River troubles between the British colonists and the Dominion authorities. The Sioux Indians are reported to be "on the war-path against the half-breeds, insurgents and Americans." The Indians, if they begin a war, will not regard the boundary line between the United States and the British possessions, and our citizens in Dakotah and Northern Minnesota will be in danger of another massacre. Our government, we trust, will provide for the protection of its frontier citizens in that quarter.

THE Democratic firemen of Harrisburg refused to participate in the inaugural ceremonies, last week, because a company of colored veterans were assigned a position in the procession. During the war these obnoxious niggers were at the front, whilst the Democratic firemen of Harrisburg were skulking at home or 'rusticating' over in Canada, to the disgust of all loyal people and the delight of rebels. From all we can learn the detested niggers presented a far more creditable appearance than the over-sensitive gentlemen who "run with the machine."

We hope our colored friends will remember this fact next October, when they go up to the polls to vote.

MR. Senator Harry White, a standing candidate for Governor, and a leader in the retrenchment and reform movement, last winter, wants to renew the contract with George Bergner for printing a useless publication called the Legislative Record, at a cost of $14,50 per page, 50 cents lower than the old contract price. Now, if there was any use in such a publication, we would say print it, no matter what it cost, but as everybody knows, it is of no earthly use whatever, and the people have condemned it time and again. If such men as Harry White must see themselves continually in print, let them pay for it out of their own pockets, and not out of the money paid into the State Treasury for the purpose of liquidating our indebtedness, and for keeping the legitimate machinery of the State Government in running order. We doubt any man's honesty who advocates such jobs as the Legislative Record, and it would be well for Senators and Representatives aspiring to still higher honors, to bear in mind that the people have become tired of paying out $76,000 or $100,000 every year for absolutely nothing. Who wants to read the senseless twaddle contained in the Record anyhow? We don't.

BOTH Houses of the Legislature have passed a bill to adjourn finally on the 17th of March.

The New Treasury Bill.

A bill to amend the acts relative to the State Treasurer and Sinking Fund has been presented in the Legislature whereof the following are the important provisions:

The salary is fixed at $5,000 and the bond increased to $300,000. The Treasurer on the first Monday of each month shall furnish to the Auditor General, a detailed statement under oath of the total amount in the Treasury at the beginning of the preceding month, the gross amounts of receipts and payments, the balance on hand at the close of the month, where it is deposited, how much in each bank and the amount received for interest on deposits. The Auditor General shall require of the Cashier of each bank holding State funds, within ten days after the close of each month, a statement under oath, of the amount of money deposited to the credit of the Treasurer, the amount drawn out and the rate of interest allowed, and it shall be the duty of such Cashier to keep an accurate account of the date and amount of each deposit and check or draft cashed. The Treasurer is forbidden to use any part of the State funds for his individual benefit, under a penalty of a fine not exceeding $10,000 and imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding five years. The bill is carefully framed and sufficiently explicit to guard against every unlawful use of the People's money.

We agree with the Blair Co. Radical, that "the passage of this bill, of which there is no reasonable doubt, will everywhere be hailed as the dawn of a new era in the politics of Pennsylvania, and will do more to arrest the flood-tide of corruption and its consequent disgrace and humiliation to the people, than any reform measure ever brought before the Legislature. In thus striking at the fountain head of all the iniquity and corruption that attaches to the body politic, the lesser streams that penetrate every avenue of legislation will be rendered purer and healthier, and the great barrier that stands between the people and those elected to represent them, will be broken down, and legislation be had upon its merits, free from the ex acting demands of a "ring" or corrupt combination of mercenary political tricksters

"We regard this bill as the Emancipation Proclamation in our State politics, and urge every honest legislator of whatever political creed, to unite in putting it upon its final passage.—And when the vote is had, we trust some member will insist upon calling the ayes and nays."

Gov. Geary's Inauguration.

The Inauguration of Gov. JOHN W. GEARY, for his second term, took place at Harrisburg last Tuesday. It was a very grand and imposing affair. The procession as originally designed, and as it was intended to be formed, included seven fire companies of the city of Harrisburg, who were assigned a position in the sixth and seventh divisions Among the visiting soldiers were two Philadelphia Regiments of white soldiers and colored regiment from Philadelphia (about one hundred strong,) who were assigned a position as were all the soldiers in the first division in advance of the firemen. For some reason, either because the negroes were given the preference in the line, or because they objected to march in company with the colored men, the seven Harrisburg fire companies withdrew from the procession and refused to take part in the proceedings. They, however, left a detail of five men as an escort to the Good-will Engine and Good-will Hose Companies of Philadelphia. These two visiting Companies maintained their respective positions to the end, and were much admired.

When the procession reached the Capitol, prayer was offered by Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church, after which the oath of office was administered to the Governer by Speaker STINSON of the Senate. The Governor then delivered his Inaugural Address, and upon its conclusion the procession re-formed and escorted the Governor to his residence.

TWENTY-SEVEN State Legislatures have ratified the Fifteenth Amendment—one more is necessary. California, Maryland, Nebraska, New Jersey, Oregon and Texas are the States that have not acted on it. It is thought that Nebraska will vote for the amendment certain; California, Maryland and New Jersey are hopelessly against it.

THE Iowa House of Representatives ratified the Suffrage Amendment on Thursday. It was ratified by the Senate on Wednesday. The Ohio House of Representatives also ratified the amendment on Thursday, by two majority, it having been previously ratified by the Senate.

Tax Collectors.

We, the undersigned, the Commissioners of Huntingdon county, hereby certify, that Robert A. Laird, was appointed Collector of taxes for the township of Porter, for the year 1869; the duplicate for that township was not placed in his hands until the month of July, 1869; and that he has this 19th day of January, 1870, settled up his duplicate in full, only asking $9.33 exonerations on County tax; and that he is the only Collector in the county, who has as yet, settled up their duplicates for the year 1869. Mr. R. A. Laird has several times been appointed Collector of taxes for that township, and has settled up three duplicates, at the January term of court following his appointment, and is worthy of credit for the promptness and fidelity with which he discharged the duties of his appointment.

SAM'L. CUMMINS, SIMEON WRIGHT, GEO. JACKSON. } Com'rs

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I see by a certificate signed by the Commissioners of the county, that Robt. A. Laird was appointed last July, Collector of taxes for Porter township, for the year 1869, and that on the 19th of this month he settled up his duplicate in full with the paying over to them the full amount of taxes due from Porter township. Mr. Laird was Collector of taxes for that township for the years 1864 and 1865, and both years settled with the Commissioners in full, at the January term of court following his appointment. Mr. Laird is the only Collector in the county who has settled up his duplicate for the year 1869, and is deserving of all praise for the fidelity with which he has discharged the duties of his appointment, and has proven by his promptness in collecting the taxes and paying over the same, that he is one who has not made use of the people's money for his own private gain, and to him it can be truly said, "well done, good and faithful servant."

It has become too much the custom with Collectors to think if they settle up their duplicate in two or three years, they are doing very well; this is an evil that ought to be speedily corrected. And it is the bounden duty of the County Commissioners to see that the taxes are promptly collected, and to appoint as collectors, only such men as will collect the taxes and pay over the money as once, and not be as hard up for money, and who only ask the appointment for the sake of getting the use of the county funds for two or three years. When they have such a Collector as Mr. Laird has proven himself to be, they ought to employ him by all means, as long as they can induce him to act. The interests of the tax payers of the county demand that the Commissioners re-appoint men who prove themselves prompt Collectors.

If the Commissioners will adopt the rule that those Collectors who will collect the taxes and pay them over promptly, shall be re-appointed, they will be sustained by the people of the whole county. The county is largely in debt, paying heavy rates of interest, while there is in the hands of Collectors, nearly forty thousand dollars, which these collectors are using for their own private benefit.

Why is it that Mr. Laird has settled up the duplicate for 1869 and yet the duplicate for Porter township for the year 1868 is not yet settled?

It is to be hoped that the Commissioners will look to the interest of the county, and that if Mr. Laird, or any other such Collector can be induced to accept a re-appointment they will give it to him; it is important to the people that efficient and honest men be appointed to office. And the day has come when the Commissioners and all others will be held to a strict accountability by the people, and when they have good officers and do not retain them, the people will inquire into it, and demand the reason why?

A HEAVY TAX-PAYER FROM PORTER.

AN Austrian officer belonging to the corps which operated in Dalmatia during the insurrection, gives a letter published in the Vienna Fremdenblatt, curious particulars of the blood-thirsty fanaticism, and the cruelty displayed by the women against the Imperial troops:

"All rebel bands," he writes; "are accompanied by troops of women; they carry provisions and amunition for the men engaged in the fight, follow them into the most murderous fire to carry the wounded away, encourage the combatants, and got stones ready to roll down upon us; in short, they are almost as formidable enemies as the men with their long rifles and their savage yells which they always raise, when, from the height of their rocks, they are about to open fire upon us. Besides this, the Morlachian women show a terrible ferocity and commit cruelties like fury against the soldiers who wounded or exhausted from fatigue, have the misfortune to fall into their hands. So, in the bloody fight we had in the defile of Han, on the heights of Lagvodale, where our brave Colonel Jovanovic was severely wounded in the foot, I have several times seen women seize the guns of fallen men, and incessantly keep up the fire against us. A middle-aged woman, tall and bony, who had stretched herself flat on the crest of a rock rising about five hundred feet above our heads, fired upon us, from a far-carrying rifle, with such precision that she killed one soldier and wounded one more. In vain some of our sharp shooters had taken her for their mark and their bullets struck the calcareous rock right and left of her. At each missing shot she would brandish her long rifle over her head, derisively shouting to the men. At last a sergeant, who passed for an excellent marksman, watched her attentively, with his gun at him, and sent his bullet full into her breast. She threw up her arms and then fell from the rock about fifty paces distant from us."

☞ The Terre Haute, Ind., Express notices the incarceration of Benjamin Franklin for stealing oysters. It says that there was a Franklin who munched his bread while traveling the streets of Philadelphia, and was sent to the French Court as Plenipotentiary. Moral:—"Eat bread and eschew oysters."

"CHARLOTTE TEMPLE."—Among the countless throngs who daily pass and repass Trinity Church, New York, how many know that within a few feet of the crowded thoroughfare of Broadway, is a grave which covers all that remains of a once beautiful and fascinating woman, the record of whose sorrows has dimmed the eyes of thousands. No date of birth, no indication of family, no date of death, appear on the stone that covers the grave of Charlotte Temple, whose tragic story, once the theme of every circle, is probably unknown to the greater number of young readers. The most beautiful girl in New York—so it is claimed—had attracted the attention of a young officer of England's oldest and proudest families, who, with his regiment, entered the city when the British occupied New York, after the battle of Long Island. Charlotte then only seventeen, was wooed and won by the young officer. He deserted her, and then, the old story—she soon after died of a broken heart. A little daughter which she left was tenderly cared for, and at a proper age was taken to England, had a fortune of $100,000 settled upon her by the head of her father's family, late Earl of Derby, grandfather of the present Lord Stantley. She, like a true daughter, and a true woman, returned to New York, and erected the monument that now marks her mother's grave. The inscription upon it was engraved upon a solid tablet of brass an inch in thickness, heavily plated with silver, and thus it read: "Sacred to the memory of Charlotte Stanley, aged nineteen years." This filial duty performed, she returned to England, and lived a life of unobtrusive piety and usefulness. The plate placed upon the stone that marks the grave, was supposed to be solid silver, and tempted the cupidity of certain vandals, who, with hammer and chisels, succeeded in prying it from the slab. They were never detected. Many years afterward, some good Samaritan caused the simple name of Charlott Temple to be cut underneath the excavation. There it may be seen with in a few feet of Broadway, by one who will take the trouble to look thro' the iron railing. The last time we glanced at the slab, now almost imbedded in the ground, we saw several sparrows taking a bath in the water which had collected in the excavation from which the villains removed the plate; and other little feathered songsters were singing a requiem over her grave—near which we were gratified to observe a forgot me not, doubtless planted there by some kind heart who in childhood, had wept over the sad and romantic story of the blue eyed girl.

HOW TO COURT IN CHURCH.—A young gentleman visiting Germantown some six months ago happening to sit at church, in a pew adjoining one in which sat a young lady for whom he conceived a sudden and violent attachment, was desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot, but the place not being suitable for a formal declaration. the case suggested the following plan. He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible opened, with a pin stuck in the following text: Second Epistle of John, 5th verse—"And I beseech thee not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning that we love one another."

She returned it, pointing to the second chapter of Ruth, 10th verse—"Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said to him: Why have I found grace in thine eyes, seeing I am a stranger?"

He returned the book, pointing to the thirteenth chapter of the Epistle of John. Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with pen and ink, but I trust shortly to come unto you and speak face to face that our joy may be full."

From the above interview a marriage took place the ensuing year.

THE DEAD OF 1869.—Last year was remarkable for the deaths of men prominent in public life. In the United States we notice the following:—On January 8th John Minor Botts and Gen. Lovell H. Rosseu; January 25th, Ex-Governor Francis W. Pickens, of South Carolina; on March 14th, James Guthrie, of Kentucky, Secretary of the U. S Treasury under President Pierce; March 27th, James Harper, the well known book Publisher of New York; July 30th, Hon. Isaac Yoncey, Secretary of the Navy under President Buchanan; on Sept. 6th, Gen. John S. Rawlins, Secretary of War; Sept 8th, William Pitt Fessenden, U. S. Senate; Sept. 10th, Hon. Ex-President Franklin Pierce; Oct. 16th, Ex-Government Joseph Ritner, of Pennsylvania; Nov. 4th, George Peabody, the eminent philanthropist; Nov. 7th, Admiral Charles Stewart; Nov. 10th, Gen. The second best was Bracket from Penobscot county, Maine, who weighs 347 pounds. Miss Silvia Harding, a Maine giantess, weighing 376 pounds, six feet eight inches tall was present. Sales and Sale Bills.

The season for public sales of personal property is now coming on. To those of our readers in Huntingdon county who intend having sales, we would say—do not fail to advertise them in the Globe. It is the very best way of making the sale generally known with the least cost or trouble. The Globe circulates in every township, borough, village or hamlet in the county, and a notice of a sale in its columns is of more value than the printing of five thousand handbills. It goes to the houses of people and just hits those most likely to be buyers.

We are prepared to print bills for vendues, at short notice, as heretofore. Our handbills are beautifully illustrated with cuts, rendering them much more attractive, without costing any more in price. Vendue advertisements can be forwarded by mail, and they will be inserted in the Globe, or handbills printed and forwarded to the parties ordering, without the necessity of their visiting Huntingdon for that purpose. Items from Broad Top.

Miners at and around Dudley, and on the Six Mile Run region, have been on a strike since the 10th inst.; also, 2 mines on the Back-switch, have been idle the same time. On Tuesday, 11th, the miners of the Broad Top, Carbon and Cook Vein Collieries struck, but there are hopes that they will resume work to-day.

A large meeting of miners was held on the 10th; between five ann six hundred were present. A more stalwart lot of men in a single community, I dare say, cannot be found in the county, than the dark faced miners of Broad Top. VERITAS.

January 17th.

Admitted to the Bar.

In looking over the proceedings of our county Court, we observe that on last Thursday, 20th inst., David Caldwell, Esq., formerly Prothonotary of this county, was admitted to practice as an attorney in the several Courts after having passed, as we are informed, a very creditable examination.—Though we differ from his political views—which are of the modern Democratic school—we wish Mr. Caldwell that success in his new field of labor which his business qualifications and legal talents entitle him to.

☞ Prof. Hugh Coyle, who died in Philadelphia on the 15th inst., was for many years a music teacher in this place, and the many scholars he had, here and elsewhere, will regret his death. Though afflicted with blindness all his life, he was ever in cheerful spirits, and his conversation was instructive as well as interesting. He died of cancer in the stomach, and was 43 years of age.

☞ Many true bills in criminal cases were returned by the Grand Jury, but nearly all were continued to the next sessions. The following civil suit was disposed of:

John Bell et al vs John Morgan et al. An action to recover on a bond. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $77.40. Messrs. Brown & Bailey, attorneys for plaintiffs, R. B. Petriken for defendants.

☞ "The Talisman of Business Success" is the name of a neat little manual, by W. H. Bixler, of the Easton Daily Express, that should be in the hands of every merchant and business man, especially our own. Those who advertise will see how to do so judiciously and profitably, and those who do not advertise will readily see what to do and what not to do.

☞ We have received a copy of the Walla Walla Weekly Standard, published in Washington Territory. And just think of it, ye who think the Globe too high, that weekly journal costs $5 a year, and 25 cents a single copy.—We might as well prepare to starve at once as to undertake to charge that much.

☞ S. B. McCarthy, of this place, has been appointed Route Agent between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and has entered on the discharge of his duties. He is a deserving young man, and will no doubt make a good Agent. We learn that W. F. Cunningham has been promoted to the position of first Route Agent.

☞ The revival in the Methodist church of this place continues with unabated zeal. About seventy-five persons of both sexes have sought forgiveness of their sins, of whom fifty-seven have applied for admission into the church. This is one of the most successful revivals on record.

☞ The past session in the Hollidaysburg Seminary has been the most successful of any since the institution began. Success, in hard times, is not a bad test.

THE MURDERERS.

Their Sentence.

The prisoners were brought into the Court room on Friday morning last, when Judge Taylor delivered the sentence, as follows:

GOTLEIB BOHNER and ALBERT VAN BORDENBERG, stand up!

You have been indicted and tried for the willful, deliberate, and premeditated murder of John Peightal, and the jury have found you both guilty. Have you anything to say why sentence of death should not be pronounced upon you?

Bordenberg responded, "Yes, sir;" and then said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I want to say to you that I am not guilty. I did not kill anybody of that family, nor did I know that any body was killed till I got to Altoona, and was arrested by an officer or somebody. I didn't know who, and asked him what it meant, and he told me all about it. But I want God to forgive me and you all that condemn me to day, and all of us, our sins. This is all I have to say."

Bohner made no response, and signified that he had nothing to say.

The Judge proceeded—

You say you are not guilty. It is in vain and unavailing to deny your guilt. A cloud of living witnesses traced you both together that day almost to the scene of your horrid crime, and left you there together late in the afternoon, lurking and lying in wait, like beasts of prey, until, in the darkness of the night, you could pounce upon your victims. You then entered their quiet and peaceful home, when they were partaking of their evening meal, shot them in their seats around the table, pillaged the house, and, to hide your guilt, set fire to it, and fled with your booty, stealing away in the darkness. No one had seen you; you had taken means to burn up all evidence of your presence there and of your guilt; and your horrid secret, you vainly imagined, was hid deep in your own bosoms, veiled in thicker darkness than that which covered your stealthy retreat. Ah! let the plotter of secret deeds of blood learn by your fate what a mistake that was! The all-seeing eye of God was upon you, and His providence prevented the fire from kindling upon your victims; and their ghastly death wounds and pillaged home were preserved to show the diabolical work of the murderer and the spoiler. His snow, before its season, had been spread over the ground around their peaceful abode, to trace your steps with unerring certainty, to your fiendish work, and from it, in your dark retreat. The booty which you sought and bore away, was invested with tongues to tell your guilt, more distinctly than human tongues could speak it. His lightning pursued you in your flight and; ere the shadows of that night, which you vainly hoped had hid your dark and bloody deed, were lifted from the earth, over forty miles away, you and the mute witnesses of your crime in your possession, were in the hands of the ministers of His avenging justice. And, brought back the same day, to the prison where you have since been confined, and where you are doomed to end your days, your guilty secret, unable to conceal itself in your own bosoms, has been manifesting itself almost daily through your lips and conduct.

The evidence against you was so clear and convincing that the jury that tried you could have no doubt of your guilt; and we approve their verdict. The law, in its humanity, awarded you process at the expense of the county, to bring any witnesses, if any there were, who could testify anything in your behalf; but you had none. The Court assigned you able counsel, who were here ready to do anything for you in the discharge of their duty, if anything could be done. Your guilt is not only fixed by the verdict, but exhibited in the clearest light, and in its darkest and most hideous shades: and yourselves and all others should feel that the dread penalty which it is our duty to pronounce, is the just punishment of your crime. Human law punishes criminals to prevent crime. It punishes the murderer to prevent murder. When it takes LIFE as a penalty, it takes life to protect and save life. And it would seem to be just and expedient that the highest and most sacred of all rights—that one in which they all center—should be protected and preserved by the exhibition and terror of the most dread and terrible authorized penalty: while DEATH is the penalty of the Divine law of nature, and of the Divine law of revelation, ("upon which foundations depend all human laws") for the willful and deliberate shedding of human blood. It has the authority and sanction of the all-wise Author and Giver of life; and, whatever may be said of it by such as assume to be wiser than Infinite Wisdom, and more just than Infinite Justice, our law, in this respect, needs no apology from any of its ministers.

We thus speak of the clear evidence of your guilt, the enormity of your crime, and the justice of your punishment, to impress upon you our firm belief that you have no reason to indulge the faintest hope that you will be able to escape the penalty of the law, which it is our solemn duty to pronounce. Dismiss every other thought, and give yourselves wholly and earnestly, during the brief space you have to live, to the work of preparation to meet your God. We exhort you to seek repentance and forgiveness from Him. Your only hope is in a proper approach and an earnest appeal to Infinite Mercy.

It remains only to pronounce the sentence of the law; which is—

That you, Gotleib Bohner, and you, Albert Van Bordenberg, be taken hence to the place from whence you came, within the jail of the county of Huntingdon, and thence to the place of execution within the walls or yard of said jail, and that you and each of you be there hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may God have mercy upon your souls!

The prisoners were then taken from the Court room to the jail, and while going thither, Gotleib, for the first time, manifested signs of remorse. As he was going up the steps of the jail, and while thinking, perhaps, that he had walked from thence for the last time, his heart was softened, and tears flowed down his cheeks. Both the prisoners now realize the enormity of their crime, and no doubt will improve the short time allotted to them in preparing to meet their God.

Letter of Albert Bordenburg.

The following is the copy of a letter of Albert Bordenburg, one of the prisoners under sentence of death, which came into our possession, a few weeks ago. The letter is translated from the German:

HUNTINGDON, Jan. 4th, 1870.

Oh, what am I and what do I want here in this awful hall? What plan has God with me? Why was I born? Only 30 years have I lived in this wicked world—from that sleep took half the time so unknown stole away from my youngest childhood on. I was well raised and I hardly got to be a man when the Lord took my parents from me; then I stood here an orphan boy, and only had brother and sisters; they said to me: "Dear Albert, you must not lose courage; trust on God, he will never forsake us; he will assist us in want if we believe in him." I learned in school and in church that who ever trusts in God will never suffer in this wide world. I did believe and did right until I came to this country; then I got in bad company and they soon spoiled me. That was not alone the fault that I was spoiled. I did forget God and did not think on him any more. The God and Lord of this great world, that knows and allows everything, did now engage my house that they are preparing for me. I have only but a few hours yet to live; then it will be said, "dear Albert, here you must prepare." Is not that an awful word that I must hear now; but still I trust to God that he will hear my prayer. I am not afraid of death and it don't frighten me. I know that I am not guilty for that murder. God, the Almighty, knows it, too, that I did not murder. I was aware of the act, but still that is pardonable. Whether man will find it pardonable, that I do not know, but I think that God the Lord will forgive a poor sinner. I do confess for my sins and stubbornly believe that God will forgive my sin on judgment day.

ALBERT BORDENBURG.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—We have received from the State Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, a report of the Convention held at Williamsport, Nov. 2d, 3d, and 4th, which it says was a grand success—200 delegates having been in attendance, representing every association in the State except two Many towns in which there were no associations, sent delegates preparatory to organizing. It speaks in the highest terms of the cordial welcome given the delegates by the people of Williamsport. Many questions of general interest in association work were discussed, and much practical information elicited. The meetings were of a highly spiritual character. A new impetus was given to association work. Before the convention there were but 27 associations in the State. Since then 20 new ones have been fully organized, and new life infused into all the old ones. Four other towns have begun to organize, and 26 others the committee are working in, and hope to organize associations during the winter. Copies of the report will be mailed gratuitously, and information with regard to the work given by addressing any member of the Executive Committee, which consists of Thomas K Cree, Chairman, Pittsburgh; Peter B. Simons, Philadelphia; Gen. Jas. A. Beaver, Bellefonte; Thomas H. Rabe, Pittsburgh; C. C. Shirk, Erie; H. A. Myers, York; E. Franciscus, Harrisburg.

☞ A locomotive scared a Massachusetts horse to such an extent that he bolted overboard into a pond among the cakes of ice. A Boston philanthropist, passing that way, strove to extricate the reckless beast, and tumbled in himself; several bystanders formed a line stretching to the brink of the ice, effected a connection with the struggling youth, and undertook to drag him out, but his weight proved too much for the aggregate friction, and the whole party slid off and disappeared beneath the flowing wave. The horse at this period of the melee, put his foot in the pocket of the benevolent Bostonian, completely carrying away the receptacle, and adding to the consternation which ruled the scene. As soon as the bystanders could control themselves, they formed a longer and stronger line, and the entire party was safely rescued, the horse silently and composedly bringing up the rear.

☞ ANOTHER careless sale of poison for physic, resulting in the death of a child, took place in Pittsburg last Friday. These fatal mistakes are becoming frequent of late. They arise from a reckless disregard of the commonest precaution against accidents. Until the test of fitness shall be applied to candidates for the responsible position of druggists' clerks, these tragedies will frequently shock communities. In the case before us the clerk testified that the opium jar and the rhubarb jar stood one above the other, and were labeled alike. The outlandish latin abbreviations which obscure the jars in all drug stores are bad enough but when opium is kept in a jar labeled "Rhubarb," how far are we from tolerating systematic poisoning?

☞ Mrs. Hannah Lloyd, widow of Gilbert Lloyd, died in Hollidaysburg on the 7th inst. Her estate is valued at $80,000, which is devised to thirty six logatees, distant relatives and friends, in sums of from $300 to about $10,000. The only public bequest is one of $500 to Lincoln (colored) University, in Chester co.

A MISERABLE specimen of a male man says that giving the ballot to women would not amount to much, for none of them would admit that they were too old to take any interest in politics.

☞ Theodore Schmittle killed in the woods, in Tell township, on the 13th inst., a black snake measuring 4½ feet. He cut its head off with an axe.

State Temperance Convention.

Upon the suggestion and after consultation with a number of friends, and by virtue of authority conferred by the State convention held at Harrisburg, February, 1869, the undersigned State Central Committee, do urgently invite the friends of Temperance in Pennsylvania to meet in Convention in the Court House in Harrisburg, on Tuesday, the 8th day of February, '70, at 11 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of reviewing the past, considering upon the best method for discharging in the future our duties in the moral, economic and political relations of the cause of temperance.

While sparing no effort to enlighten the public in the great moral truths that are the foundation of the temperance reform, it has therefore become a question whether fidelity to temperance convictions does not now demand a policy and action different from the past and which will more effectually counteract the new movement of our opponents by open, direct appeals to the conscience and judgment of the voters and citizens of the Commonwealth.

We do therefore invite the consideration of these questions, delegates representing the religious, moral and temperance views of the people, as follows:

State Temperance organizations to be represented by delegates not exceeding five in number each; County Temperance organizations, by not more than three delegates each; Temperance Societies, Divisions of S. of T., Temples of H. & T. and Lodges of G. T's., Churches, wards of Cities and Boroughs, and Townships, by one delegate each. Credentials will be required from those desiring to take part in the proceedings.

Necessarily a considerable expense attends the call, arrangement for, and publication of the proceedings of our conventions, which has in part heretofore been raised by voluntary contributions from those who have already been subject to the expense of attendance, which method is objectionable, if not unjust. To make suitable provision for these expenses we do request that each delegate shall, with his credential, hand to a person who will be appointed, the sum of two dollars.

A public prayer meeting will be held in the Court House from 10 to 11 o'clock, a. m., preceding the Convention. Signed by the State Central Committee.

KISS HIM FOR HIS MOTHER.—It was a very pretty and pious conceit of that dear old lady to kiss that youth for his mother. So forcibly has it appealed to popular admiration, that no inconsiderable number of young men have the same affectionate caress bestowed on them out of respect for that same venerable relative. A striking example of this was afforded a few evenings since by a young lady who enjoys the undivided affections of a down town clerk. It so happened that, some weeks ago, his mother died. His heart was consoled in this great bereavment by the affectionate sympathy of his employer's fascinating daughter. It is not strange that this affection ripened into love. The parents noted and approved their daughter's choice, but wisely kept their own counsel. The interesting relations, however, were destined to come to light in a way they least expected. One evening the young couple were enjoying a pleasant tete-a-tete in a secluded part of the parlor. The old gentleman happened, by the merest accident, to step in and take a seat unobserved by the young people. Suddenly his attention was arrested by one of those prolonged, luxurious kisses which only lovers interchange

"What noise is that?" the parent loudly exclaimed.

Silence like death.

"I say Julia, what noise was that?"

"S-i-r—Sir?"

"What are you doing there?,,

"N-o-t-h-i-n-g, sir!"

"Who are you kissing there?"

"Only—only William, sir; his mother's dead, you know—and—and I thought it wouldn't be wrong to kiss him for her, you know, sir!"

"Humph!" and the old gentleman took his leave, doubtless thinking how fortunate the deceased lady was to be so affectionately remembered.

McGUIRE'S

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH, BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR,

And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries.—No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivaled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever offered in this country and is warranted free from all poisonous substance. This valuable lotion was used by the Emperor Maximilian, and Empress Carlotta of Mexico, and universally used by Mexicans for three hundred years. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing and refreshing.—When thus used it at once relieves headache.

McGUIRE'S

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA" is an excellent article of granulated Virginia tobacco, wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is SMOKING TOBACCO, put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerchaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S "Yacht Club" cleaned by all who consume it as the "finest of all." It is made of SMOKING TOBACCO, all the choicest leaf grown; it is entirely free from all nicotine or other narcotic properties. In its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 or ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for fine class Meerchaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourselves it is all it claims to be, "The Finest of All."

LORILLARD'S CENTURY CHEWING TOBACCO. This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS have now been in general use in the United States over 110 years and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.

If your storekeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere.
